

STCW REQUIREMENTS AND COMPETENCY SEAFARER STANDARDS

Course aim and objectives: IMO International Convention on the Standards of Seafarer Training, Certification and Watch-keeping (STCW) regulates the minimum requirements on seafarer training, certification, and watch-keeping arrangements. In 2010, IMO's STCW Convention was amended to standardize inconsistent training of seafarers and ensure competencies are duly assessed for all ship personnel. The STCW 2010 Amendments specify the regulatory framework for the training and assessment of competence of seafarers as well as the qualifications of seafarer instructors and assessors including applicable quality standards. The course familiarizes participants with the goals, provisions, and implementation standards of the amended Convention with emphasis on key requirements

Course main elements:

- Scope, and structure of the Convention
- Overview of the STCW 2010 Manila Amendments
- Responsibilities of shipping companies
- Competency assessments for enhancing seafarer skills
- Technical and behavioral seafarer skills
- Implementation and Compliance
- Workshops and final examination

Course participation: The course is open to shipping company DPAs, safety, quality HR and crew managers, superintendents, shipping company office personnel, masters and senior shipboard members who need to understand how to best comply with the Convention's requirements
